Promote ACS through your social channels

We've created these posts to make it easy for you to promote your membership of the Approved Code Scheme (ACS) and your role as a Code Sponsor.

You can use them as they are, or adapt them to better suit your organisation's tone, audience, and wider communication goals. Some will be ready to post straight away, while others may work best with a light edit, or reduced copy for X or Bluesky platforms — use them as inspiration.

GETTING STARTED:

- Download these assets for each post
- Aim to share around one post per month
- Use the hashtag #ApprovedCode to build recognition

Consistency is key — regular, visible use will help strengthen awareness and trust over time.

We back businesses that put fairness and customer redress first

We're proud to be a Code Sponsor of the Approved Code Scheme (ACS), backed by Chartered Trading Standards.

Our Code of Practice meets independently approved standards — and the businesses we represent commit to going beyond basic legal requirements.

For our members, it's a mark of credibility.

For their customers, it's a sign they're dealing with a business they can trust.

What makes ACS different

Not all standards schemes are created equal and this is why we signed up to The Approved Code Scheme (ACS).

The ACS is the UK's only sector-wide code framework independently audited by Chartered Trading Standards.

That means real oversight, real accountability, and real standards — not just a badge and not just reviews.

It's how we ensure our members deliver consistently for their customers.

Raising standards

Raising standards isn't a slogan — it's a commitment.

[Insert your organisation's name] are Code Sponsors of The Approved Code Scheme (ACS) Code. The means we and our members have committed above and beyond to higher levels of service, transparency, and accountability.

That benefits:

- ✓ Customers — better experiences
- ✓ Businesses — stronger reputations
- ✓ The sector — higher overall trust

Better standards benefit everyone

Resolve Complaints Fairly

Even the best businesses can get things wrong — what matters is how it's handled.

That's why our [insert name of your code] follows the Approved Code Scheme (ACS) which stipulates all customers of an ACS approved business must have access to free, independent Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) if required.

For customers, that means:

- ✓ A fair process
- ✓ No costly legal action
- ✓ Confidence that issues will be resolved

It's protection that goes beyond expectations.

Why trust matters

Consumers don't just buy products — they buy confidence.

With so many choices (and risks), knowing who to trust isn't always easy.

That's where the Approved Code Scheme (ACS) makes a difference.

When customers choose to do business with a member of [Organisation name], they're choosing:

- ✓ Higher standards
- ✓ Accountability
- ✓ A clear route to resolution

That's real peace of mind.

Long-standing, proven framework

The Approved Code Scheme (ACS) isn't new — it's proven.

Established in 2001, it's the UK's longest-running consumer code framework, covering over 40,000 businesses and we are proud to be supporting the Code as Code Sponsors.

Together, we are raising standards and protecting consumers works — at scale.

The bigger picture

Raising standards doesn't just help individual customers — it strengthens entire markets.

By promoting our ACS-approved Code, we're helping to:

- ✓ Build trust across our sector
- ✓ Support responsible businesses
- ✓ Reduce the impact of rogue traders

It's a better environment for everyone.
